

David Vargo

Chief Operations Officer

In his 35 years in manufacturing with NMG, Dave Vargo has honed his leadership skills in quality assurance, production planning & support, operations management, business development, business unit leadership and corporate level program management.

In April of 2018, Dave became Chief Operations Officer for NMG Aerospace. As COO, Dave provides tactical and strategic focus to leading the execution of the Company's key strategies in Operations Excellence, Smart Growth, and Employer of Choice initiatives. Prior to his current role, Dave was President of NMG West, where he successfully led that division in initiatives centered on realignment of resources, improved efficiency, increased productivity and providing superior customer service.

With an eye for continuous improvement and a commitment to accountability, Dave has managed product transitions, overseen facility startups, participated in the industrialization phase of numerous "design to spec" projects through the NPI process and has held leadership roles in each of the various aerospace units that comprise NMG Aerospace. Dave actively shares his knowledge and experiences through mentoring and coaching others in their own career development.

Dave holds both a Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration and an MBA in Finance from The University of Akron and is a member of the Financial Management Association's National Honor Society. With an interest in life-long learning, Dave is also a proud alumnus of Leadership Akron (Class 23), a graduate of The Center for Creative Leadership's Leadership Development Program, and completed the Case Western Reserve University's Weatherhead School of Management - Leadership Deep Dive Program.

Dave is married and has one daughter; he enjoys outdoor activity and strives to help those who are less fortunate by participating actively with his church and in the local community.
